SKETCHES OF LITTLE OLD NEW YORK BY O. O. MONTYRE

Telegram Bureau: Rooms 121-125 Hotel Mayfield, West Seventy-second Street.

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—To those skeptical citizens who from seeing Candidate Hughes or from other reasons opine that there is little here in the profession of barbering, harken to the story of Jacob Hysler, who has just laid down his razor and his shears and disposed of his barber shop in the Hotel Manhattan.

Hysler is 84 years old, to be true, but he has many years before him and he also has a bank book showing pretty little figures that total more than $300,000. He is the best known barber in New York and at one time ran the barber shop in the Windsor hotel, historically known for its dreadful holocaust.

Hysler has given some of the most prominent men in the country the "once over." Among his steady patrons are Mayor Mitchell, George McAnaney, William and Percy Rockefeller, Theodore Roosevelt and if these names don't satisfy you to his importance he once trimmed the beard of Charles Evans Hughes.

The veteran barber paid $10,000 a year rent for his shop and he has turned it over to his nephew on a sub-lease which calls for $12,000 a year. He owns several country homes, automobiles, and his daughters are active in charity work.

It was a brilliant gathering in the grand ball room of the Waldorf Astoria. West Thirty-fourth street was packed with expensive limousines. I know they were expensive because they were noiseless. Every car had a liveried driver and a liveried footman and there were enough diamonds and pearls to make a big dent in the national debt.

I happened to be in evening clothes so I took a dash of goat's milk at the bar and butted in. It is interesting to stand on the sidelines and watch big men play. They seem to feel that they've got to appear frivolous but gosh how they dread it. I saw Chauncey Depew telling a funny story. Charles Dana Gibson talking to a hat check boy and laughing. Charles S. Fieldsteel, the young broker, talking to someone that looked like J. P. Morgan, Police Commissioner Woods one stooping like a Casio, Prince Troubetzkoy and his wife, Amelia gives, looking at each other adoringly. Mme. Emmy Destinn looking like a queen.

At this point a gentleman in ropes of gold braid asked me for my invitation and I told him he was impertinent and walked out with him tagging along and apologizing at every step.

A woman of refinement has written to New York newspapers complaining about cats in restaurants. The feline ornaments are not confined to the table d'hôte red ink places but to the most exclusive cafes in New York. Every restaurant has its black cat.

Nobody seems to know why. Even the restaurant men just shrug their shoulders and say: "We always have." Others say it is a superstition. The woman who complains says that she has a marked fear of cats and goes into hysterics at the sight of them.

She is therefore unable to visit cafes—and she is fond of this sort of life. There are several Broadway theaters that have cats that stroll up and down the aisle while the performance is going on.

middle West and for lunch she ordered artichoke hot with Hollandaise sauce for the little darling. The dog's name is Boo—short for Beautiful Baby. (Of course it makes you sick—but what do you suppose it is doing to us?) Well Boo was served with artichoke at eighty cents a choke. And yet in this land today there are some who wonder why people throw bombs.

Mrs. Wynn Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Helped Her During Change of Life.

Richmond, Va.—"After taking seven bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I feel like a new woman. I always had a headache during the Change of Life and was also troubled with other bad feelings common at that time—dizzy spells, nervous feelings and heat flashes. Now I am in better health than I ever was and recommend your remedies to all my friends."—Mrs. LENA WYNN, 2812 E. O Street, Richmond, Va.

While Change of Life is a most critical period of a woman's existence, the annoying symptoms which accompany it may be controlled, and normal health restored by the timely use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Such warning symptoms are a sense of suffocation, hot flashes, headaches, backaches, dread of impending evil, timidity, sounds in the ears, palpitation of the heart, sparks before the eyes, irregularities, constipation, variable appetite, weakness and inquietude, and dizziness.

For these abnormal conditions do not fail to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.
